

Open Case Studies: Exploring CO₂ emissions across time

Motivation

Main Questions

Learning Objectives

Context

Limitations

What are the data?

Data Import

Data Wrangling

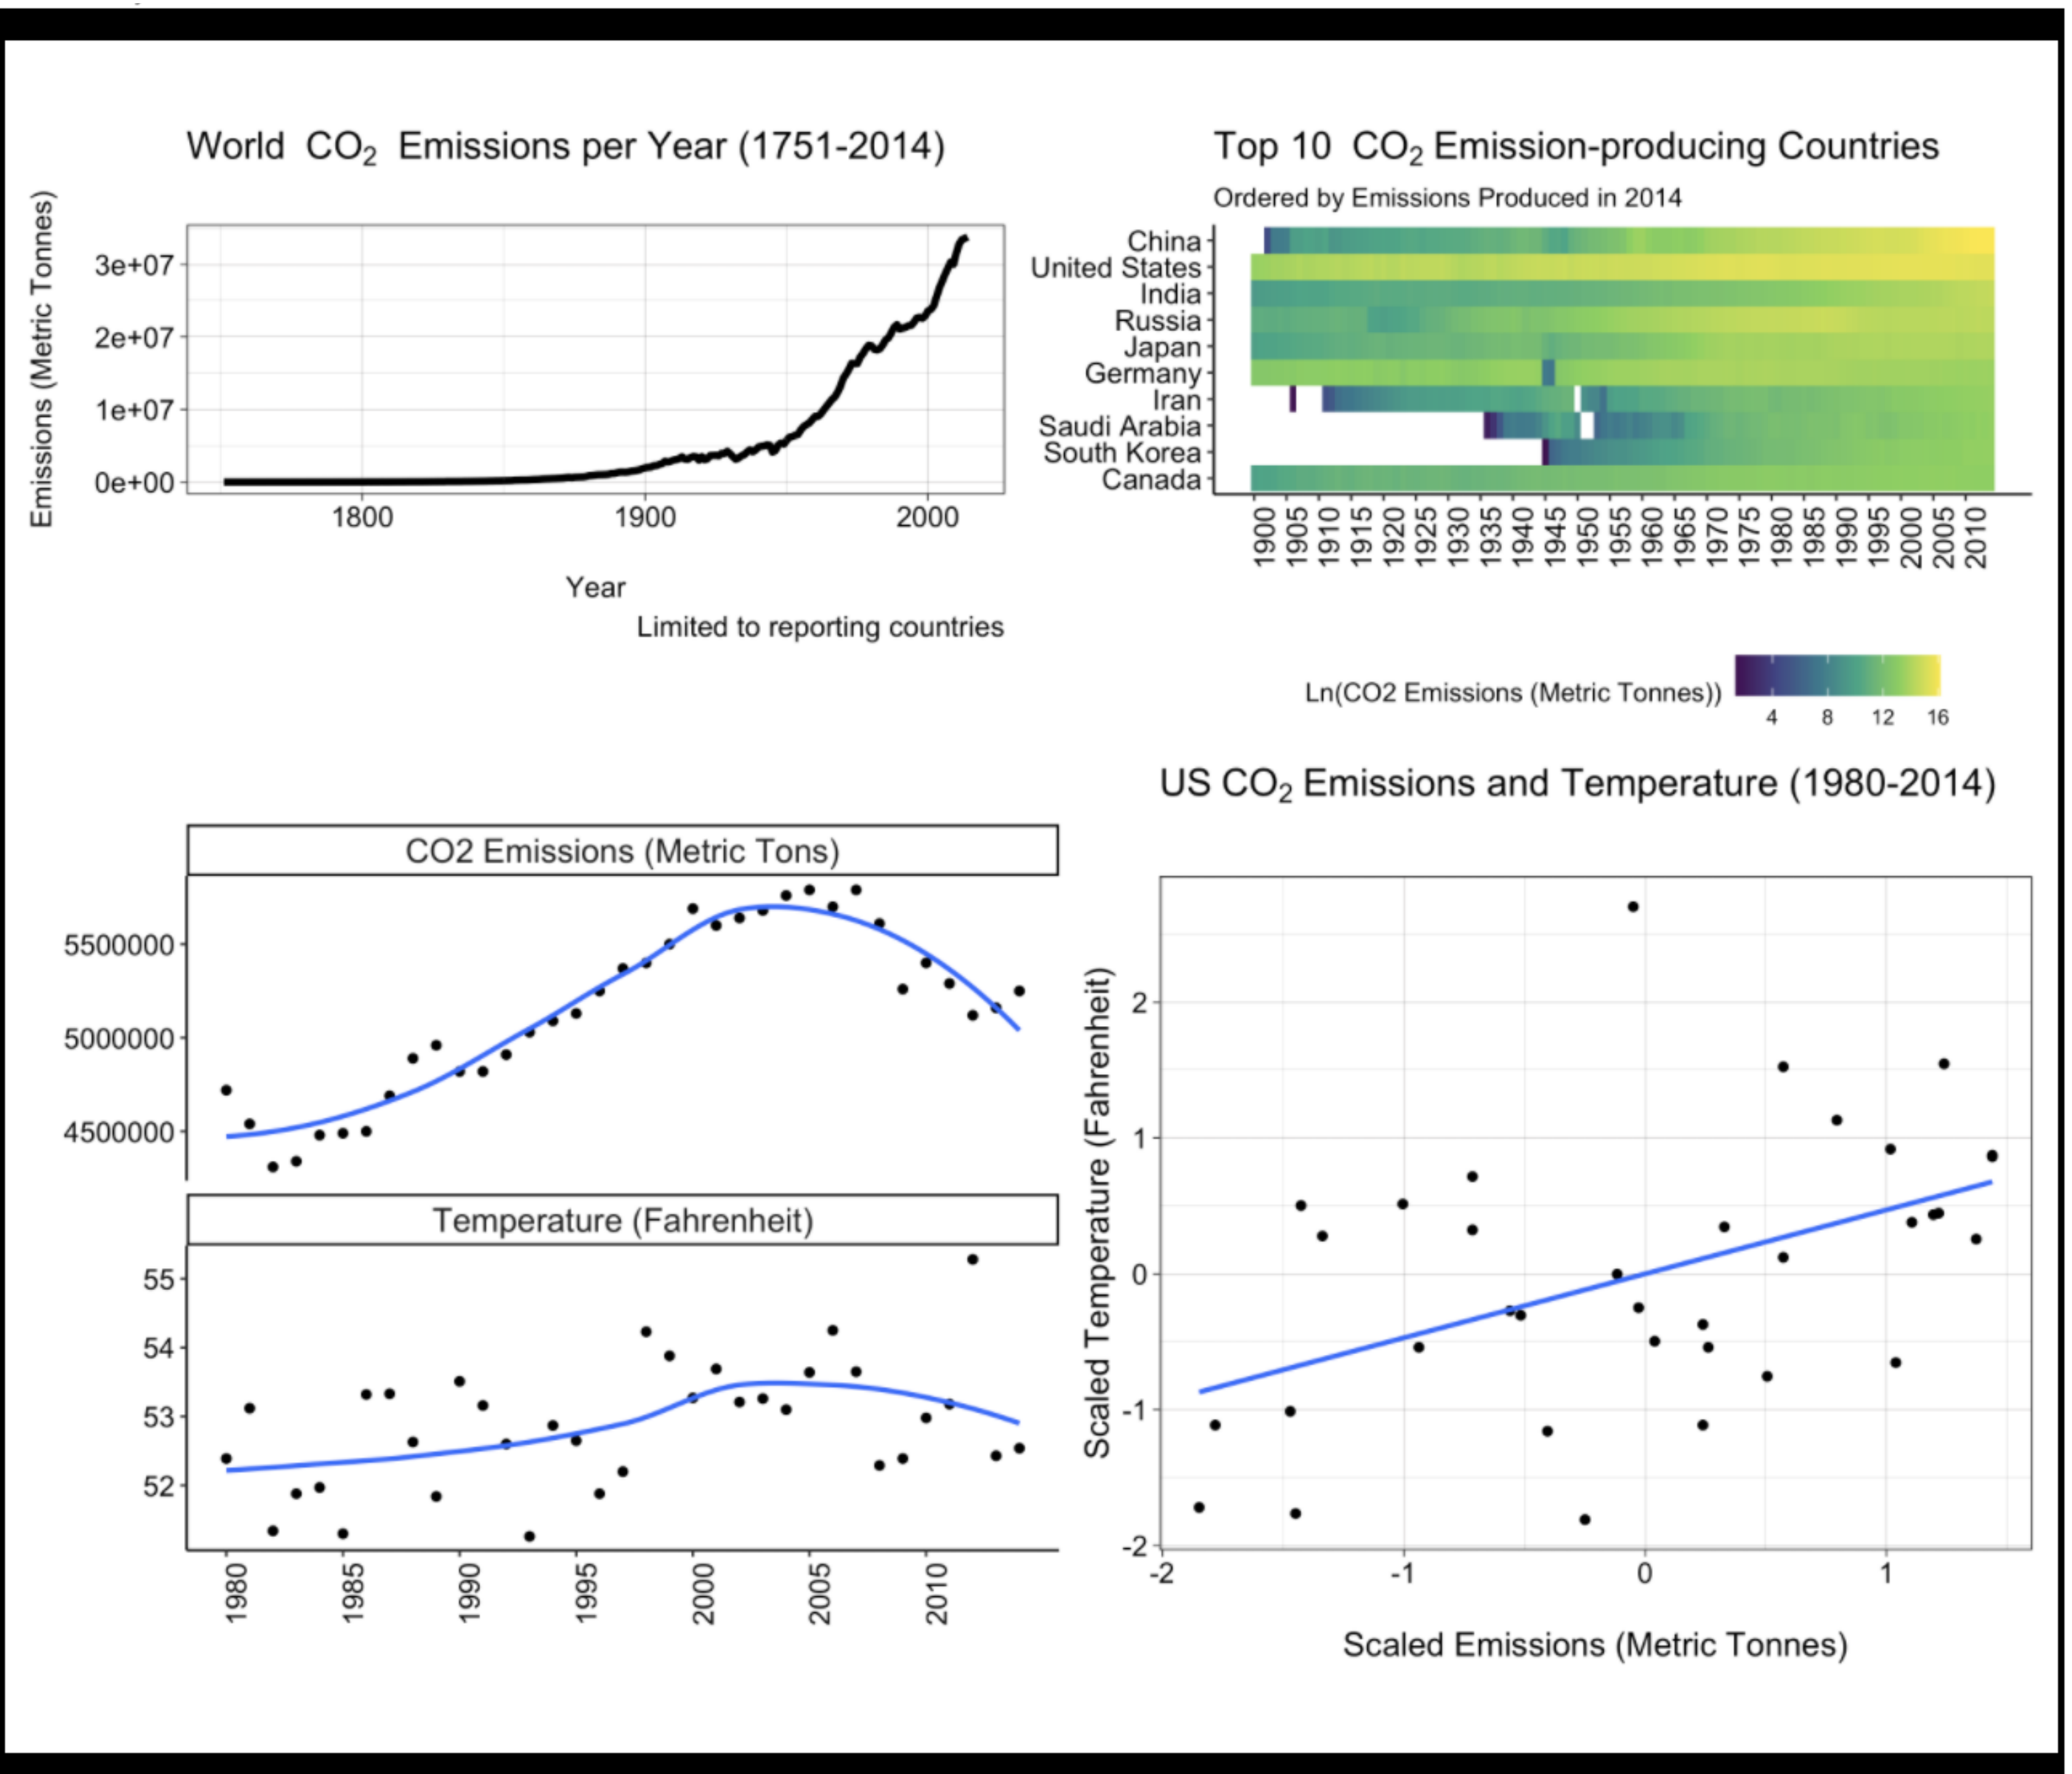

Data Visualization

Data Analysis

Summary

Suggested Homework

Additional information

Disclaimer: The purpose of the Open Case Studies project is to demonstrate the use of various data science methods, tools, and software in the context of messy, real-world data. A given case study does not cover all aspects of the research process, is not claiming to be the most appropriate way to analyze a given dataset, and should not be used in the context of making policy decisions without external consultation from scientific experts.